Mount Pleasant High School, Wilmington, Delaware

Deliberately ifferent

Mount Pleasant is a magnet for those who choose to be an individual in a sea of similiarity. This institution allows students, faculty, and the surrounding community to grow in a nurturing environment and to express their true feelings without fear of rejection. This free atmosphere allows the student to leave Mount Pleasant as a unique, well-rounded person capable of fulfilling society's varied needs. Whether the student's interests lie in Physics and Calculus or Auto Mechanics and Metal Shop, Mount Pleasant has a curriculum designed to suit the needs, interests and abilities of the student. The open environment causes the students to feel free to express themselves through their activities, appearance, and interests. Not only are Mount Pleasant students deeply involved in their own academic pursuits, but they also enrich their character through the fine arts program, athletic activities, and friendships.

The arts departments at Mount Pleasant continues to be excellent this year. Mount Pleasant students and faculty grow through their involvement in music, art, and drama, as does the entire community. The music department shares its abundant talent with the local elementary schools in order to encourage the young, budding musicians. In addition, they reach a wider population though their free performances at the shopping malls. The paper drive sponsored by the band, aids the national conservation effort and is the largest in the area. Drama productions enlist the aid of professionals in the community, such as alumnus Sonny Leo, in order to expose the students to the true world of theatre.

Deliberately ifferent

The Mount Pleasant athletic department continues to produce excellent teams while encouraging students of varying talent to enjoy sports on both the jayvee and varsity level. Although dedicated to excellence, Mount Pleasant sports stress the growth of the individual and good sportsmanship. Caring coaches take the time to encourage each team member to make the most of his abilities while learning what it means to be part of a team. The camaraderie of the field often extends into the classroom as team members become close friends and coaches teach their athletes. The turnout for Mount Pleasant games increases as students and the community, spurred on by the infectious school spirit of the cheerleaders, cheer the teams toward success.

The wide variety of academic programs and the strength of all of them are more proof of Mount Pleasant's dedication to the individual. For college bound students, Mount Pleasant offers more Advanced Placement classes than any other school in the district. With A.P. classes offered in Biology, European and American History, Calculus, Computer Science, and several other topics, it is possible for a highly motivated student to leave Mount Pleasant and enter college as a sophomore. For those interested in a technical school, a half day exchange with Paul M. Hodgson Vocational-Technical School allows them to be a scientist by morning and a beautician by afternoon. The Mount Pleasant chapter of the Distributive Education Clubs of America is active once again this year. Thanks to their newly installed soda fountain in their school store, Deca is able to give its students hands on experience. Most importantly, Mount Pleasant students, placed in an academic program of their choosing, strive to with that unique Mount Pleasant style.

Just as a people are what they eat, a school is the people who attend it. Without the personalities, attitudes, and appearances of the school's population, Mount Pleasant would be nothing more than an empty shell. Mount Pleasant's students are different in that they refuse to be stereotyped. The "brains" are often the very same people as the "jocks". Friendships are formed without any regard for race, age, sex, or economic strata. At Mount Pleasant, students feel free to be themselves due to the iconoclastic attitude.

Mount Pleasant's quality and individuality has grown steadily over its three decades of existence. Although the last ten years have been difficult ones for the school, it has survived this transitional period and is flourishing again.

He Makes A Difference

Mr. Clark Receives Dedication

He may not be deliberately different, but this man certainly has many facets. Like a diamond, he shines in various ways, depending on how you look at him. He's "hard-working, dedicated." He's "always a gentleman." He's "truly a friend in need." A former basketball coaching assistant said, "At half-time he told our boys not to try to score too much so they wouldn't humiliate the other team." He is Mr. Albert B. Clark, Jr., a long-time social studies teacher here at Mount Pleasant and the recipient of the 1986 Green Leaf dedication.

Mr. Clark is a native of Wilmington. He spent a year at West Nottingham Academy where he was a basketball star. He graduated from Lafayette College where he played both basketball and football, and he received his master's degree from West Chester State College. He also served as a

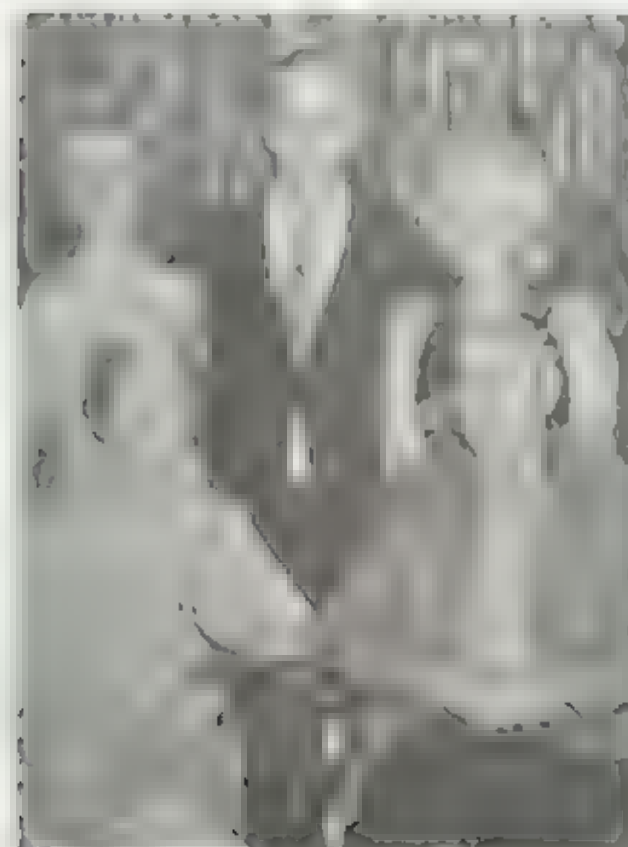

Marine in the Second World War

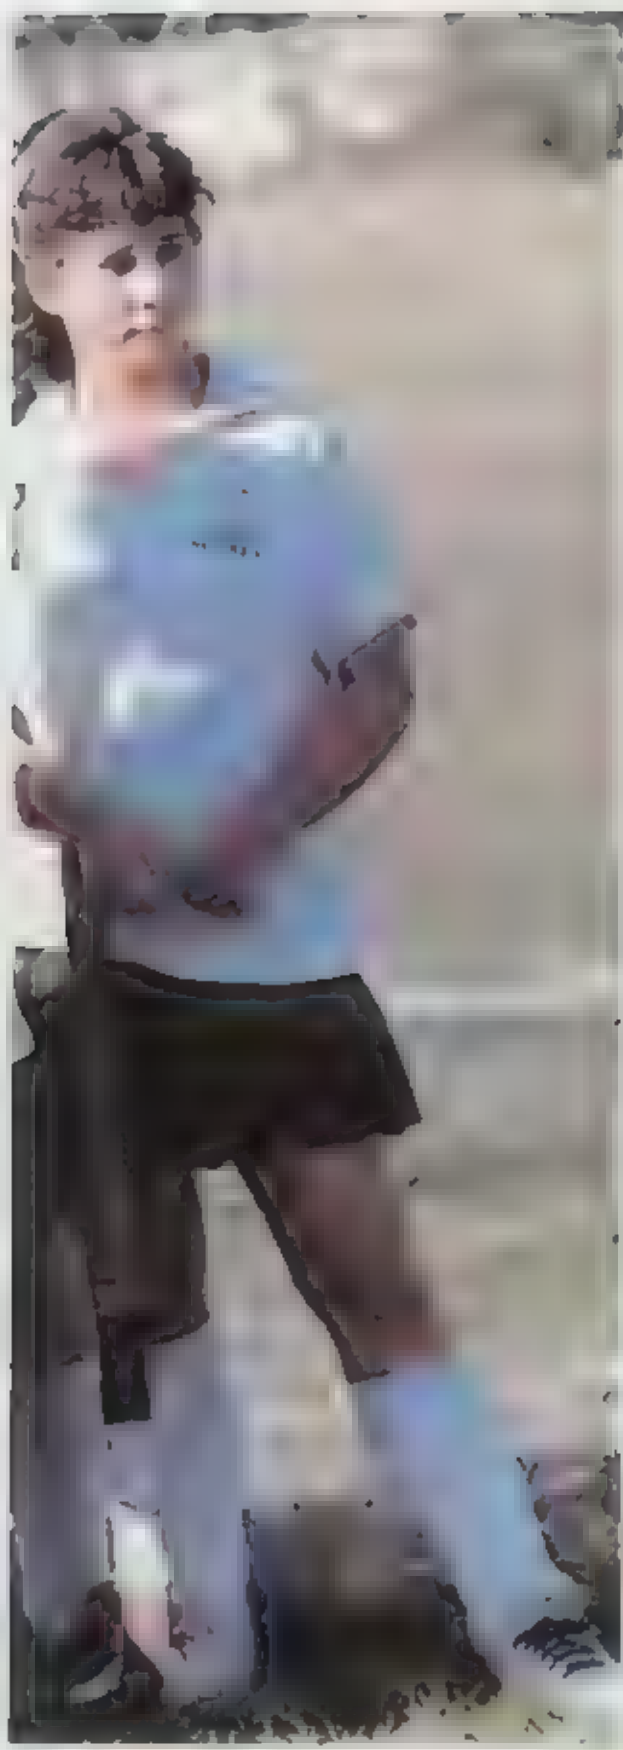

Mr. Clark started his career as a basketball coach and assistant football coach at Sanford Preparatory School. He later became the head basketball coach and assistant football coach at Pierre S du Pont High School. In 1963, Mr. Clark came to Mount Pleasant.

At Mount Pleasant, Mr. Clark was still active with sports. He served as head basketball coach for four years. He was the head boys' basketball coach in 1967, the only year Mount Pleasant has ever won a state championship in boys' basketball.

After winning the State Championship, Mr. Clark retired from coaching. He became the assistant Athletic Director for four years and later Athletic Director until he retired from that position in 1975.

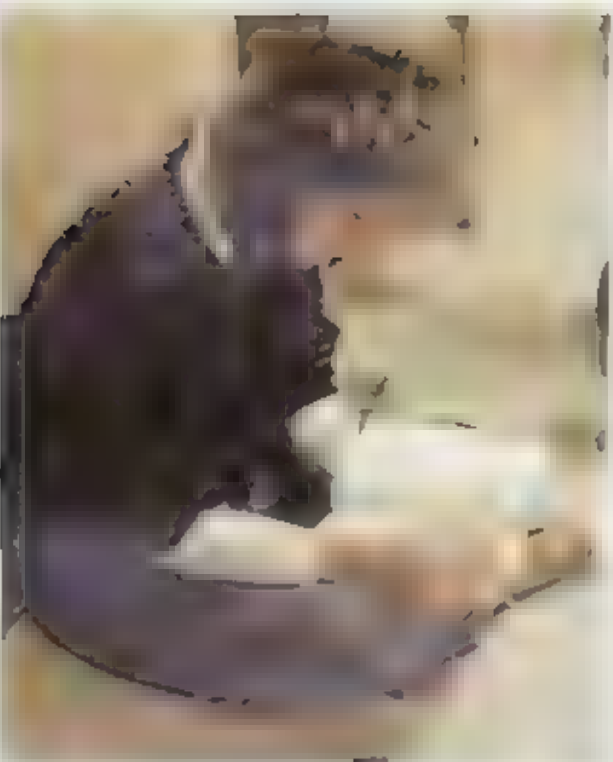

Deliberately ifferent

Student life at Mount Pleasant is as rich and varied as the students themselves. Although the traditional emphasis on schoolwork continues, pupils find many ways to express their individuality. Changing fashions are an important concern for many students, along with the jobs that support the extensive wardrobes. Such personal interests as musical groups and boy or girl friends fill the insides of lockers and decorate the wall behind the school. The many facets of student life can be confusing to outsiders, but they make up an integral part of Mount Pleasant

STUDENT LIFE

Behind Closed Doors

A Look At Mount Pleasant Lockers

What's in a locker? You'd be surprised. These days lockers aren't just filled with books, lunches, backpacks, and dirty socks. They have a personality all their own (or their owner's)

Although you can still find dirty socks in some lockers, lockers today are filled with with a bevy of beautifying items. They are plastered with posters, magazine pictures, stickers, graphic designs, paintings, sayings, collages, pictures of friends, and of course the inevitable graffiti. Lockers are also filled with mirrors, stuffed animals, knickknacks, memo holders, and the occasional book

Why do people decorate their lockers? It isn't because they eventually want to become interior decorators. Rachel Holley says "It was boring. I wanted some excitement." Dee Nicholas says, "So it'll look like my room." What a room!

Some people don't decorate their lockers. They don't have the time, the inclination, or the will to do so. There the locker stands, day in, day out for four years. It remains an ugly, beige, utilitarian receptacle for the flotsam and jetsam of high school life. Amy Eyre says, "To me, a locker is nothing more than a closet."

What does the administration think of people decorating their lockers? Mr. Sterling states, "It's okay as long as it's not obscene, it's inside, and it will come off." That means that you may have to do some heavy spring cleaning.

Stepping Out In Style

In contrast to private schools which require all their students to wear "uniforms" such as navy blue skirts, slacks, and blazers, Mount Pleasant students are allowed to wear anything "clean, decent, and not-disruptive to the learning process of others," according to the student folder of rules and regulations passed out on the first day of school. The result of this liberal dress code is less chaotic than might be thought. At times it even appears that Mount Pleasant has an unofficial dress code of denim jackets, Forenza sweaters, and concert shirts. However, a small group of pupils feel free to express themselves through their attire. Both Dee Nicholas and Rob Grodzicki make a statement with their partially shaven heads of hair. The female members of the choir started a fad last year with their purchases of filmy, woven scarves in Canada that has continued this year. The scarf can be worn in almost any fashion, but the most popular seems to be to drape around the neck in loose, triangular folds. Becki Foltz, Cindy Corbett, and Jacqueline Le Mieux can be seen rushing down the halls with the fringed scarf ends fluttering dramatically. The red, black, and white tri-color Air Jordan sneakers flash through the hallways during changing time, and the truly fashionable complement the shoes with a Gucci sweat shirt. One of the more unusual fads sweeping through Mount Pleasant is the hand made string bracelets that appear on wrists everywhere. Football players, like Tom Ward, show their school spirit with bracelets in green and white or green and gold

On The Job

Students Earn Extra Money At Store

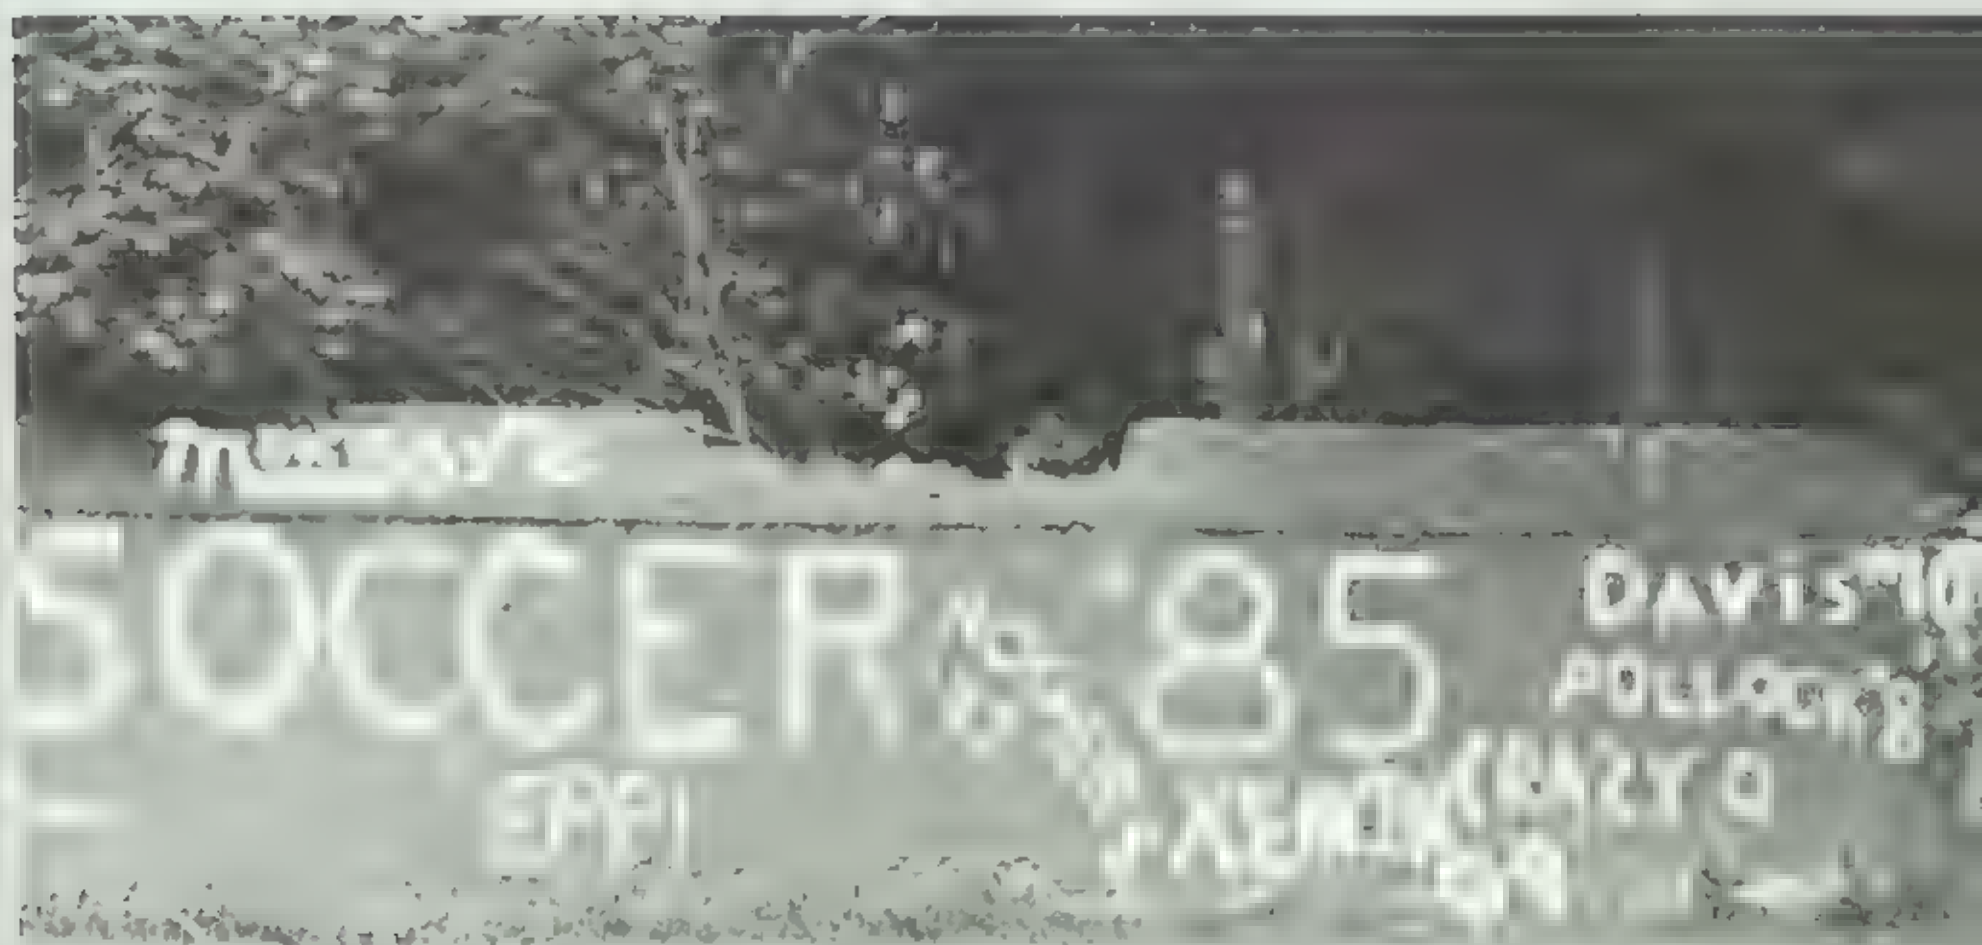

No longer is it safe to run up to the store in wet hair and sweats. Having a part-time job is common among high school students, especially seniors. This year, the Super Fresh at Branmar Plaza has been invaded by Mount Pleasant students. Seniors Dan Croce, Mike Dostillio, Darren Dalton, Eric Norman, and Chris Marsh all call Super Fresh home. Mike and Dan, promoted from their original jobs as stray cart collectors, are cashiers. Darren can be found in the produce section stacking bananas and grapefruits. Chris keeps the shelves well stocked, while Eric bags your groceries.

Outsiders can't seem to understand what attraction Super Fresh holds, as it appear to be your normal everyday grocery store. Maybe it's the luscious avacados in the produce section or the four wheels and the shining chrome found on the shopping carts. In actuality, Super Fresh's central location seems to be the prime reason for many of the students. Branmar Plaza is within easy driving distance of most of the developments in the Mount Pleasant area. When asked why they worked at the store, students answers varied. Dan Croce said simply, "Why not?" Pragmatic Mike Dostillio and Darren Dalton work for the money. Darren says, "The only reason why I am working here is the money. It allows me to have a better time with my friends and sweetheart."

Since many of the faculty live in the Mount Pleasant area, it is not surprising that they frequent Super Fresh. Every Friday, Miss Torrence and Mrs. Fielding can be seen doing their weekly grocery shopping.

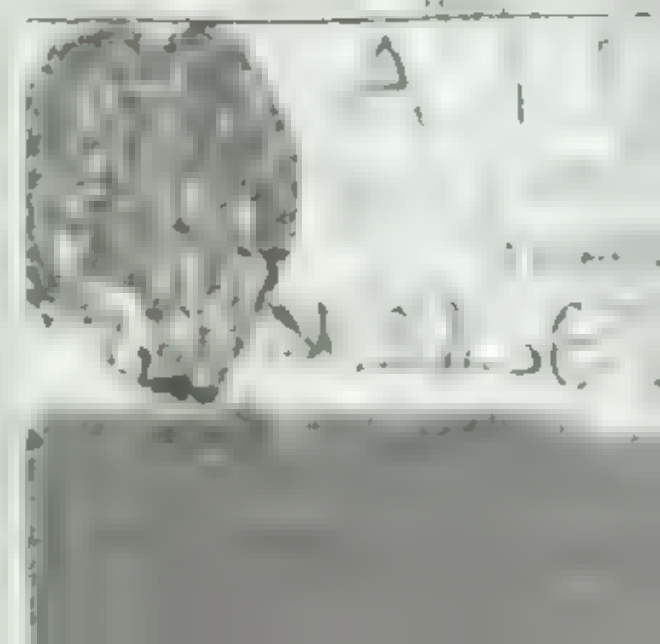

The Writing's On The Wall

Traditional Painting Continues

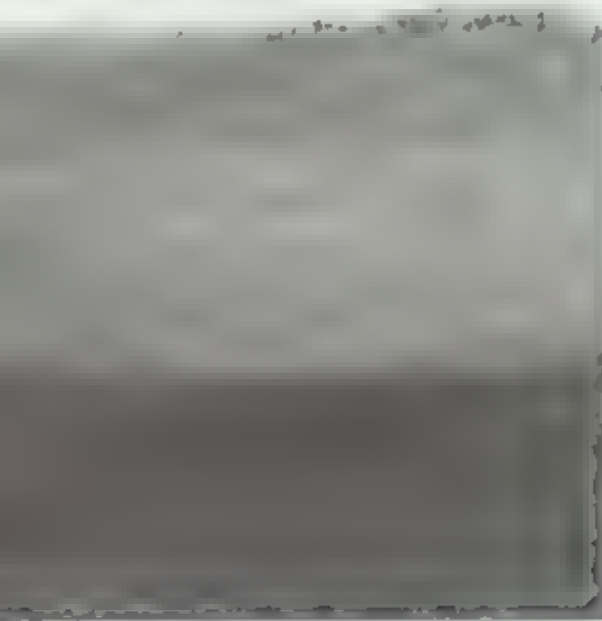

Creeping across the dark hockey field at midnight, the stealthy figures reveal their presence by faint rattling and a few nervous whispers and giggles. Did something move over by the school? What would happen if the police cruised by? Without these worries, painting the wall would lose much of its thrill. Painting the wall behind Mount Pleasant has long been a tradition and an outlet for school spirit. The layer of paint on the wall is so thick that it appears to be supporting the stone. Every Monday new messages appear on the wall. Reading about current couples, insults, and jokes fill many long History and Psychology periods. Almost every student makes the moonlit journey across the field at least once during his four years at Mount Pleasant. Although each message quickly disappears under a coat of fresh graffiti, the memory lives on as friends joke about their paint-splattered jeans

Teachers are not always the inhuman, insensitive mass producers of education that students would like to believe they are. Everyday, they stand before numerous students with varying interests and abilities, and perform for 53 minutes in the hope that one student might understand a theory or concept just a little better than he did yesterday. Amazingly enough, most remain humbly human, in spite of the superhuman tasks, and even, eat and drink the same food, breathe the same air, and maybe even share the same interests. At Mount Pleasant, we are blessed with teachers who not only provide us with an excellent education, sometimes even on a college level, but who also retain and share their uniqueness.

Staff Remembers Alan "Mike" Shaw

The smells of lasagna drifted out of the cafeteria and into the sharp evening air. Students and teachers scurried about the decorated cafeteria, providing drink refills and making sure everything was all right. Mr. and Mrs. Hesen stood in aprons in the kitchen keeping up with the requests for more dessert. Wait a minute - night air? waiters? Mr. Hesen in an apron? In Mount Pleasant's cafeteria? You must be mistaken!

The above scene took place right before the Christmas Concert. The warmth and good cheer of the season carried over to the dinner. Mr. Huffman said, "One of the most positive things about the dinner was the response from the staff. It was terrific." The brainchild of Mr. Richard Huffman, the dinner raised over $1,000 for a new scholarship in memory of Mr. Alan "Mike" Shaw. The money earned from the dinner will be invested and presented to a cultural arts student in two or three years.

Mr. Shaw, the recipient of the 1980 Green Leaf dedication, was a valuable part of Mount Pleasant for twenty-six years until his death from cancer in 1984.

A Salute To Our Veterans

Wearing camouflage clothing is just a trend for many Mount Pleasant students, but for many of the faculty, the clothing has a deeper significance. Although the experience of the former veterans have varied widely, they all agree that both the horror and the learning involved in military service have helped to shape their lives.

Many of the images left by the war are tragic. Band Director Philip DeFranco chastised one member who played Taps at the closing of a football game by saying, "If you had every played that at as many military funerals as I have, you wouldn't be able to take it so lightly." Edward Heyden explains the result of combat by saying, "It's a scar that can never be erased." Robert Kilroy, a Driver's Education teacher states, "At age 17, I grew up in a hurry after witnessing the first casualty, another boy with whom I had gone to flight training."

However, Mr. Kilroy also recalls, "Some good came out of the War, despite all the death and destruction." The growing and learning which can result from service in the Army can be seen by Rosario Limmina's statement, "Service proved that no matter what the differences or backgrounds of individuals, we can learn to live with each other with dignity and respect."

Although war is not a funny topic, the faculty recalls some light aspects about the service. Edward Dougherty remembers, "I was never in combat and it's a good thing too. I was killed at least three times in mock battles." The now silver-locked Mrs. Hutchinson notes that she got her "first gray hair" in the Navy

What Do You Want To Be When You Grow Up?

The future; something nobody wants to consider in these carefree days of high school. Life just seems so confusing after you graduate. After all you have the choice of starting work immediately, joining the Army, Navy, Air Force, or Marines, going to a trade school, going to a two year junior college, or going all the way with a four year college. If you decide to find work immediately, how do you find a job? If school is the path you take, which one is for you? Also, what will be your major and future career? The time to answer that infamous question "What do you want to be when you grow up?" has now arrived. Before you say "enough" and throw in the towel, consider your potential lifesaver - The Mount Pleasant High School Career Exploration Center

The Career Center, run entirely by Mrs. Barbara Walker, can help you. The Career Center has a wealth of information on all these topics and more. In addition to the books that can be checked out of the center's library, the center has two computer programs, Computer Guidance Information Services (GIS) and Delphi, and audio visual tours of universities. The computer systems relay information on over 1,000 colleges, occupations, job specifications, current job openings, and even a part time job for right now Mrs. Walker cares about the students that take advantage of the center's resources, and does her best to insure that everyone has some idea about their future. To accomplish this, she holds a mini course in Career Exploration, based on an interest inventory for all freshmen. The course focuses on the relationship of interests, abilities and values to the career planning process. On February 15, Career Day, over 40 speakers lectured on their professions to the students, who had their choice of two professions Mrs. Walker feels the success of the program "lies in disseminating the information to the students." With over half the school utilizing the Career Center, Mrs. Walker and the Career Center are undeniably a success

Flyers Find A Fan

Windolph Holds Season Ticket

Who would ever believe that the harmless-looking lady who constantly roams the halls in the math wing of Mount Pleasant spends her time out of the classroom as a spectator at the roughest, toughest, nastiest game around? No, not professional wrestling, but ice hockey. Ms. Windolph, the head of the Math Department here at Mount Pleasant, is in her eighth season as a season ticket holder of the Philadelphia Flyers. Her students got her interested in hockey and the Broad Street Bullies all the way in the 1973-74 season, when the Flyers captured their first Stanley Cup. It is a hard to imagine Ms. Windolph, a good-humored and passive person in the classroom, screaming for blood night in and night out at the Philadelphia Spectrum. Not to worry. Ms. Windolph is not a fight freak. To her, fights and hard contact are just a small part of a very entertaining sport. What attracts Ms. Windolph to a sport such as ice hockey is an awe for the skill of the players. The grace and elegance of the skating, passing, and shooting have won the heart of this math teacher. Because of many years as a season ticket holder, Ms. Windolph has another family - fellow Flyers fan. Over the seasons Ms. Windolph and the other season ticket holders have become close. They even have their own type of Christmas party. This friendship aspect fits the image of the classroom Ms. Windolph better. Her favorite hockey players happen to those who work the hardest. The superstars are OK, but the guys who give 110 percent like Bobby Clarke and Dave Poulin are the ones who get Ms. Windolph's respect. If Ms. Windolph looks for the same qualities in students as she does in hockey players, then let this be a hint to anyone who might find himself in her classroom

Mount Pleasant's unique qualities become especially evident in its athletic department. Due to the relatively small student body, all of its teams are not championship quality. However, if you probe deeply into the character of the teams, you discover something far more valuable than mere skill. The team members have reserves of courage, pride, and sportsmanship rarely found in students. They grow and learn during their involvement with athletics. All this does not mean they do not care about winning. They strive for it constantly. However, they do not work for it to the exclusion of the values that they know are equally important

Field Hockey - A Winner

Finish With 9-2-1 Record

The 1985 Mount Pleasant Field Hockey Team was led by Coach Kaye Dunlap. The captains for the varsity team were seniors Alison Koski, Anne Rogers and Lori Ricci. The captains contributed more than their share of goals as they scored 3, 4, and 5 respectively. The other scorers were led by junior Susan Needs with 6 goals, and her freshman cousin, Carolyn, with 5 goals. Kelly Devlin and Dawn Glazar followed with scored 3 goals each. Overall, the team had an excellent season, finishing with a 9-2-1 record. This qualified them for the State Tournament, where they lost a tough match against Milford, 3-2. Despite this loss, the season was a success.

Susan Needs says, "The great amount of dedication and the long, hard, strenuous practices paid for for each of us individually." Alison Koski was named first team All State and teammates Sue Needs and Anne Rogers were named third team. Alison Koski, Anne Rogers, Sue Needs, and Lori Ricci were awarded Blue Hen Conference first team. In her first year as goalie, senior Peggy Lee made third team All Conference.

Football Suffers

The 1985 Green Knights, led by Coach Dave Needs, struggled through a season of disappointments. Hampered by injuries and inexperience, the Knights 2-8 record did not reflect the dedication and hard work put in by the small but determined team.

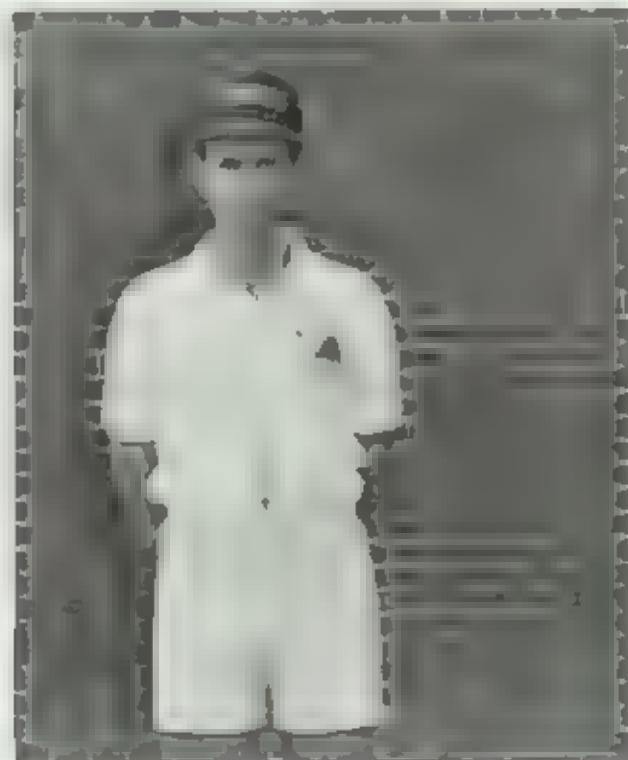

Individual honors were the true highlight of the disappointing season. Jason Pringle, head captain, was named Green Knights' Offensive Player of the Year due to his incredible 850 total yards and six touchdowns. These accomplishments and others, including an 85 yard kick-off return against Archmere, caused him to be named first team running back and second team defensive back for the All-Conference team. Brian McGovern was named Defensive Player of the Year and received in All Conference honorable mention as a linebacker. Honorable mention All Conference offensive guard, Doug Daum, received the annual Dr. Wayne J. Pollari Football Commitment Award. Other Mount Pleasant players who were awarded honorable mention in All Conference were John Creasey as a linebacker, and Shannon Lee, Mike Hudson, and Pete Ferrier as guards. In addition, Mike Hudson attained honorable mention as a punter.

With off season conditioning and weight lifting, the team will return to the grid iron next year hungry to restore Mount Pleasant to excellence

Volleyball Has Rebuilding Year

Returning Underclassmen Hopeful For '86

With all the experience the underclassmen received in this rebuilding season, the Mount Pleasant volleyball team shows a lot of promise for next year. The team will miss four year letter winners and captains Vilma Funcich and Daina Komoroski, but juniors Laura Falconi, Reb McClure, Gretchen Ellixon, and Brigitte Anderson will return to form the core of the team next year. Mrs. Betty Stewart, the coach, says of this season, "We had a lot of good close matches. We had five good solid players, but we needed that experienced sixth player. If we had the sixth player, this season would have been very different. Of course at this age level, it's very hard to find someone who has that kind of experience." No matter what their record was, Mrs. Stewart was pleased with how compatible the team was and the high number of freshmen on the team.

Soccer Improves

Has Best Season In Five Years

Coach Alrich, in his first year as soccer coach at Mount Pleasant, drove the Green Knights to turn in their best record in five years. This was accomplished despite the tough schedule and the fact that there were only three seniors on the team. Seniors Lee Cashell, a starter who had never played soccer before, Matt Dodson, a four year letterman, and captain Slayt Lane, also a four year letterman, provided the inspiration, experience, and leadership. Despite coming up short in many games, the Green Knights shocked many of the best teams in the state with their determination.

The success of this year is due, according to Slayt Lane, to "the freshmen maturing rapidly." The freshmen came from an undefeated Talley Junior High team. With so many starters returning, including junior co-captain, Jamie Soutar, freshman standouts Ray Keating and John Rogers, and Brian Davis, a sophomore who led the team in scoring and made third team All Conference; the future looks bright. Hopefully, a reputation for excellence will be established next year.

All the cheering gave both junior varsity and varsity lots of experience.

The sale of hats and pennants, and a successful dance helped to support Homecoming activities. The parade and game on Saturday, October 26 was followed by our annual Homecoming dance. Cross Country Gets On Course

A team of all underclassmen pushed themselves to the best cross country season in years. Easy jokes suggest no work is required in this sport, but any runner will tell you differently. Becca Drury says, "This isn't easy. I've seen people collapse after finishing a race and thought that I would do the same thing."

In terms of scores, the 1985 season was not fantastic, finishing with a 6-6 record and placing sixth at the State Meet. However, when one considered last year's 0-12 record and this year's first girls team in years, the team's improvement is evident. Since all the cross country runners are underclassmen, the team will improve next year.

Miranda Takes Over Girls Basketball

Young team has losing season, but looks ahead

Unfortunately, the Lady Green Knights Basketball team's long tradition of winning seasons was broken in this season, but this season was not a loss. After many years of experience coaching winning teams, Willie Miranda used his expertise to develop the talent found at his home school, Mount Pleasant. Under his leadership, a return to basics was stressed along with simpler plays. However the discipline continued in the form of Saturday morning practices.

The good times the team had and the experience for the returning underclassmen made this a winning season. Four year letter winner and captain Dawn Glazar explains, "I expected a lot more than what's turned out, but we've all grown very close and I'm going to miss all of them. We had a losing season, but it's been fun. It's not like we cry after every game."

Junior Laura Falconi looks ahead to next season, "The only senior we will lose is Dawn (Glazar) and next year co-captains Susan (Needs), me, and Kris Smith will return. We also have a lot of freshmen who should return." Adding to the team's potential for a winning season next year is their attendance of basketball camp as a team this summer.

Basketball Reaches Quarterfinals

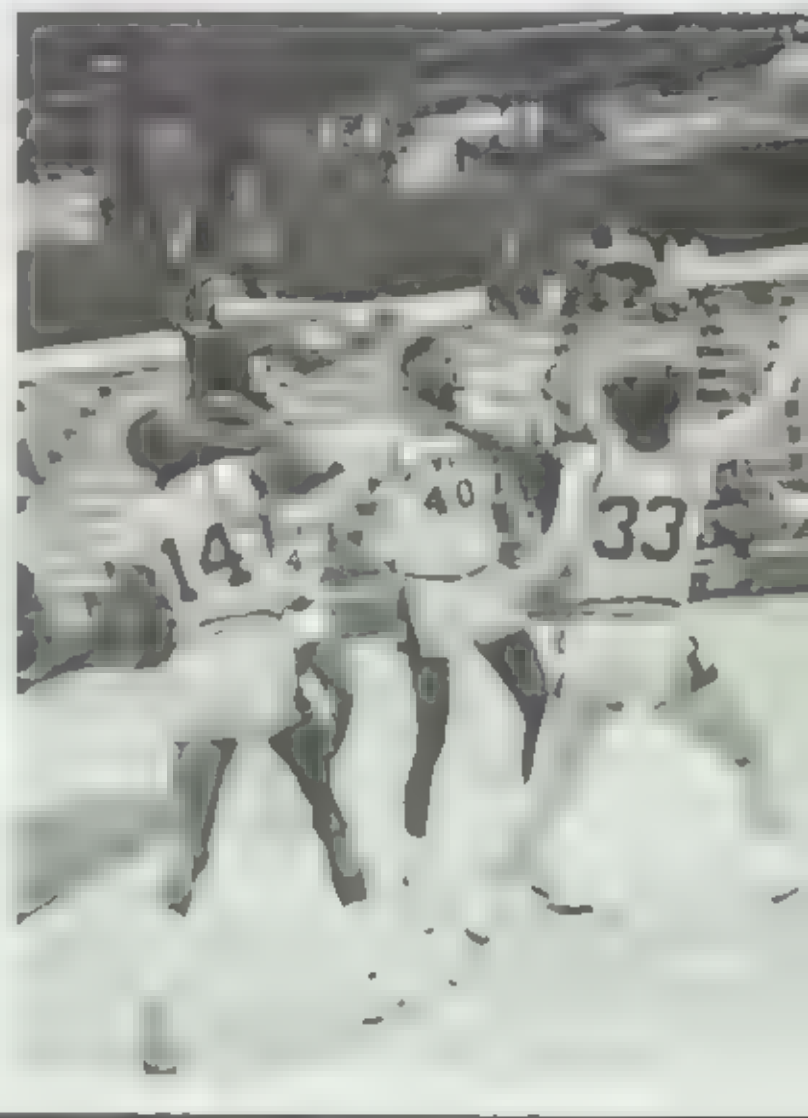

Transfers lead team in scoring

After years of losing seasons, the tradition of excellence established in the late 1960's by Coach Albert Clark has been restored. The boys basketball team at Mount Pleasant capped off their much improved season by reaching the quarterfinals of the State Tournament. They started off by defeating Caesar Rodney, and then went on to beat St. Elizabeth (15-6) in overtime. The Knights answered the next challenge by defeating Archmere in double overtime on a free throw by Kim Randolph. As people questioned how a 3-15 regular season team reached the quarter-finals, the boys prepared to meet Dickinson. Despite leading by 14 points at the half, Dickinson handed Mount Pleasant a heartbreaking 4 point loss in the final 48 seconds. The team's improvement can be traced to two transfers, Bennie Dollard and Deon Holloman, and the continuity of second year coach, Mr. Allan Hart. Bennie, the captain of the team, averaged 19 points per game, which made him the ninth highest scorer in the state.

Swimmers Surprise Themselves

Excel In A "Rebuilding Year"

The Mount Pleasant girls swimming had an excellent season for what was supposed to be a rebuilding year. Led by coach Stu Arasim and assistant coach Carolyn Fisher and captains Beth Dubroff and Katerina Nelson, the team improved tremendously. For the first time in years, the girls had very competitive divers in Laura Albers and Kristin Hobbs. Both girls qualified for the state meet along with Robin Koralek (200 medley relay and 100 breaststroke), Mary Appleby (50 free, 100 butterfly, and 400 free relay), Beth Dubroff (50 and 100 free, 400 free relay), Kristin Friday (200 medley 100 butterfly), Rachel Holley (50 free and 200 medley), Hope Zucker (200 medley and 400 free relay), Lisa Myers (200 and 500 free and 400 free relay), Astrid Anderson (200 medley relay, 200 individual medley, and 400 free relay), Alisa Ambinder (50 and 100 free and 400 free relay) and Alison Greer (100 yard breaststroke). Robin Koralek summed up the season by saying, "We were really afraid that we were going to get buried when we went to some meets. Brandywine, Dickinson, and other schools actually laughed at us, but we still beat them."

Swimmers Drown In Talent

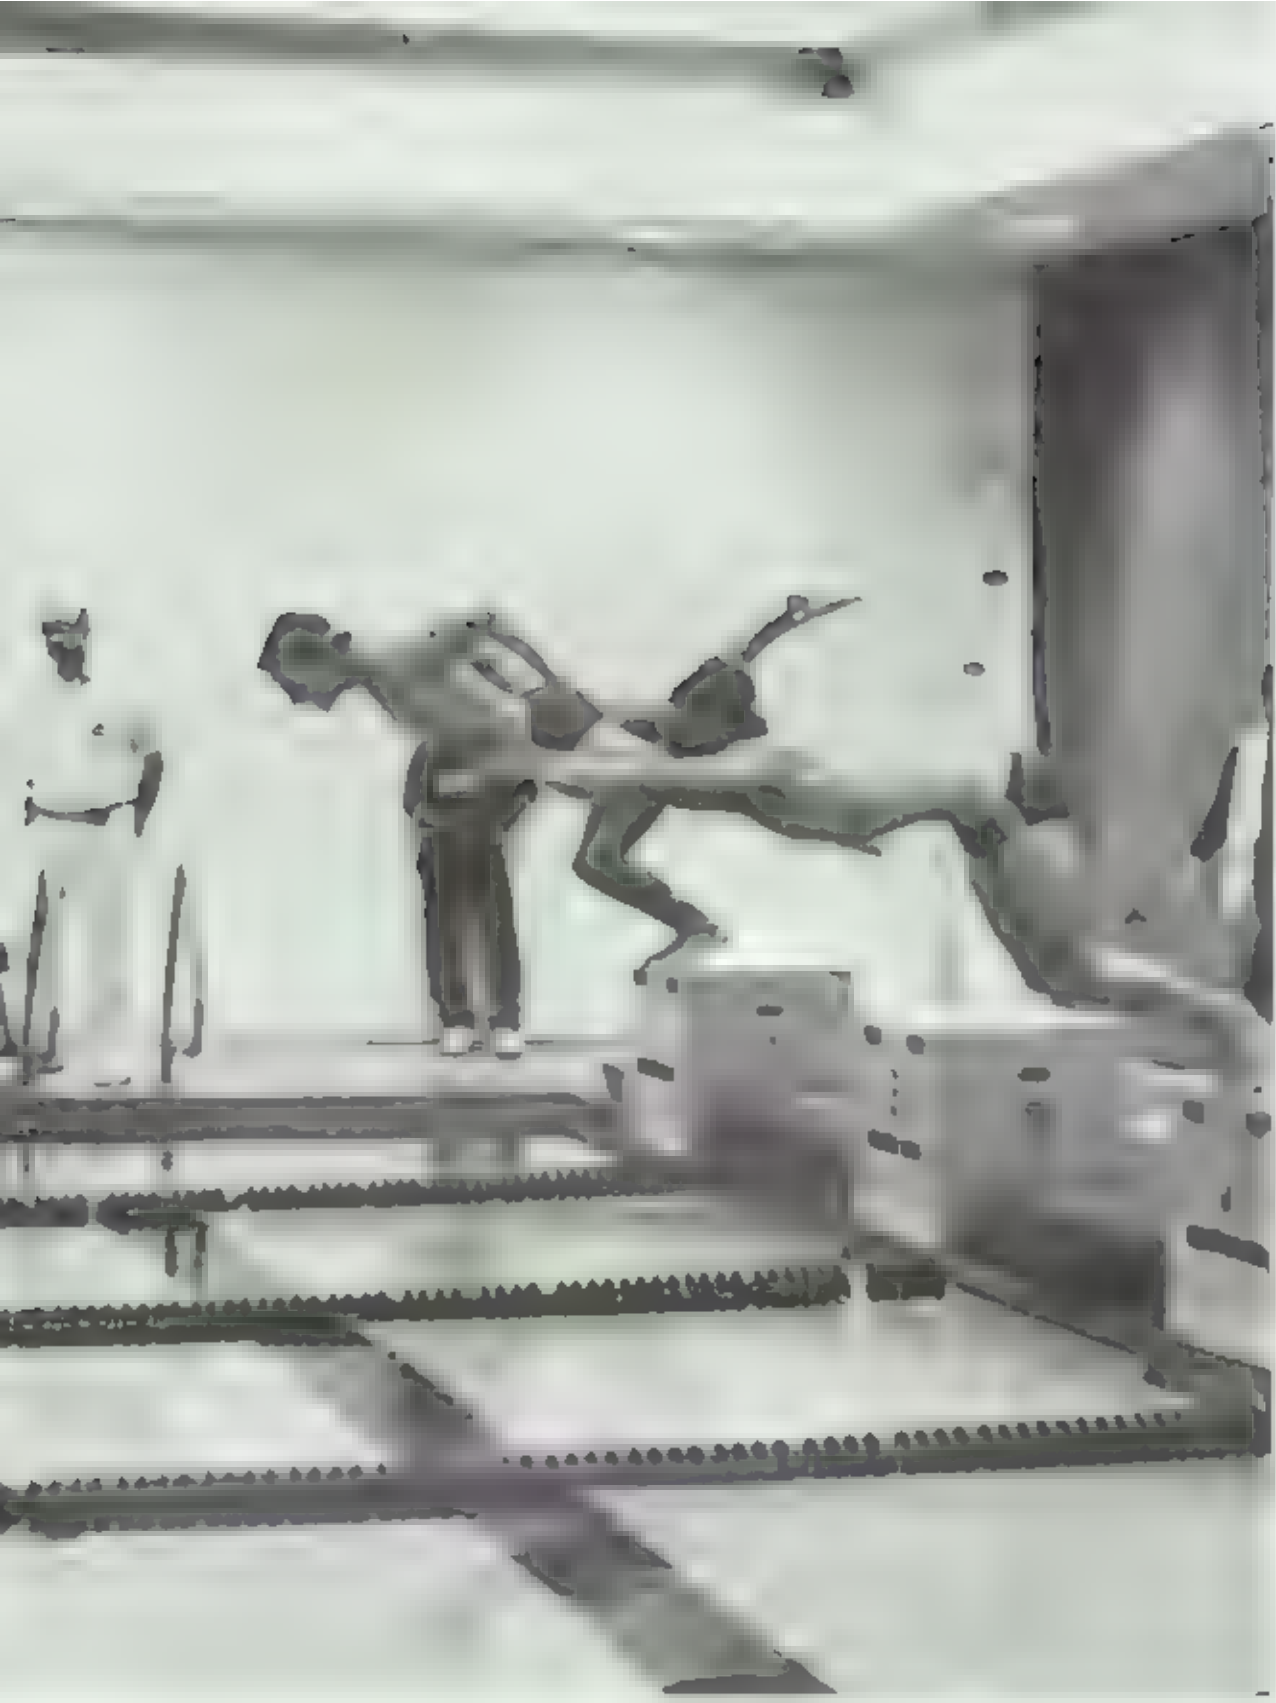

Eleven qualify for state meet

Hopes were high at the beginning of the boys swim season with the return of promising swimmers as Seth van Neerden and Gordon Wellings from last years championship team. However, the team could not repeat the glory from the season past and was forced to settle for a 9-4 record. However the team was still very strong and senior Sean Wilhere, a transfer from Salesianum, and freshman Rod Sterling gave the team added depth in diving. The team's overall strength is seen in the large number of state meet qualifiers. Seth van Neerden lead the list and qualified for the 100 meter breaststroke with a school record of 58.27 seconds. This time is the second fastest in the nation among high school boys. Rounding out the state meet qualifiers were Ron Groover, Mike Wright, Sean Wilhere, Rod Sterling, Sean Lugg, John Prosceno, Eric Norman, John Pierson, Brian Davis, and Brian Warren.

Wrestlers Learn This Season

Expect State Championship in a few years

The young Mount Pleasant wrestling team chalked this year up to experience as they suffered another losing season. The team was led by captains Brian Villanueva and Andy Baker, the first sophomore wrestling captains ever. Brian led the share of team points scored with 49 points and a 9-4-0 record. Rick Frampton and Scott Lee followed closely with 35 points and a 8-4-1 record and 29 points and a 5-3-1 record respectively.

The relative youth of the team has its advantages as they have several years to develop their talents. The main core of the team will return as they are only losing Rob Williams, John Furbush, and Mike Falcons to graduation. Captain Andy Baker said, "We are expecting to place in the top ten in the state in a couple of years when we are seniors." To help achieve that goal, many of the wrestlers will go to the Gramby School of Wrestling at Hampton/Sydney College in Virginia.

The team was coached by Mr James Brown.

Winter Track

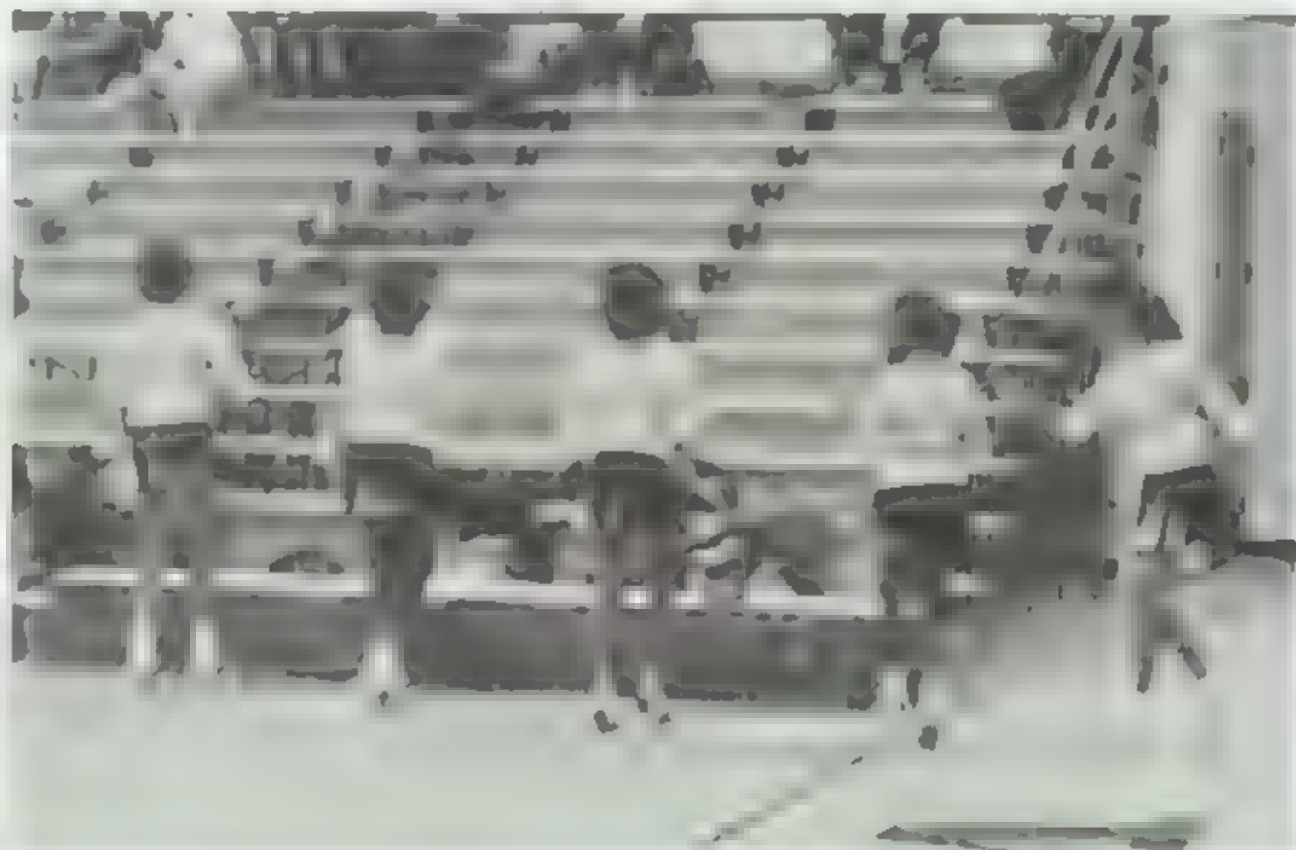

The die-hard runners of Mount Pleasant's first indoor winter track team in several years were small in number, but large in dedication. Coach John Lannutti trained and prepared his team for competition. Coach Lannutti's labors paid off with several State Championship Meet qualifiers. They included senior Mike Bubeck in 55 meter high hurdles with a time of 8.4 seconds and Jennifer Smyth in the 55 meters. Jennifer's time of 65.9 in the 440 meters and Mike's consistent good performances caused them to be on the High School Track Honor Roll. Mickey Cassu, Darin Mason, Keytonia Goode, Carolyn Needs, and Tiffany Marine strove to qualify for the State Championship Meet.

Winter Cheerleading

The winter cheerleaders worked every hard this season under the leadership of captain Keytonia Goode and co-captain Robyn Duncan "Mom" Beachboard coached the girls, who cheered for boys basketball and wrestling. There were eleven girls on the varsity squad and no J.V. squad. The girls practiced twice a week and cheered for two games a week. Captain Keytonia Goode marveled at the squad's improvement, "We've come a long way. We used to be so yucky, but now we're fun to watch." The cheerleaders sponsored a spring theme dance on March 1 and Dino D was the deejay.

Deliberately ifferent

To confused parents and nervous freshmen, the music department is frustratingly elusive. It's hidden beyond a long row of lockers and down a dim staircase. However, for those who know the school, the presence of the band and choir is very strongly felt. Both groups are eager to involve new and enthusiastic members however inexperienced they may be. The hard work required for performing is richly rewarded with many trips, many friendships, and many lasting memories.

MUSIC

The Green Knights Marching Band has had a superb year under the direction of Philip A. DeFranco. In addition to playing at all the football games, the band also participated in the Annual Fireman's Parade, the Marple Newton Bandarama, and the New Castle County Field Band Festival.

The band received a rating of excellent, the second highest rating, at the Marple

Newton Bandarama in October. The following weekend at the New Castle County Field Band Competition, they topped that score with a rating of superior, the highest rating possible. The band was rightfully proud as this was the highest score in Mount Pleasant's history.

The band attributes its success to the hard work of its members and leaders. (continued on page 62)

Drum majors Karen Schopfer and Scott Harris directed the entire band on the field. The band front was coordinated by Gigi Mueller. Cindy Corbett was the captain of the pom-pom section and Mary Jo Houchins was the captain of the silks.

Another highlight of the banner year for band was the arrival of the new uniforms. The new uniforms contributed to the band's success at the Marple Newton Bandarama, as they placed second in the category of visual effect. The uniforms were paid for by the paper drive, the band's major source of income.

The 1985 Green Knights Marching Band is not content to rest on its laurels. Presently they are raising funds for a trip to Quebec, where they hope to compete against worthy adversaries.

The Mount Pleasant Concert Band, under the direction of Mr. Philip A DeFranco, kicked its post marching band season off to a good start. The band required devotion, willingness to work together, an optimistic attitude, and plenty of practice. Each individual was required to practice to show a good overall performance and the entire band rehearsed one night a week.

The nightly practices were added due to the missed periods due to labs. While the band consist of mostly experienced musicians from grades nine through twelve, there are a few members who have never picked up an instrument before. These members are given individual lessons with Mr DeFranco to teach them how to read music and their playing has contributed greatly to the ensemble of the band. Mr. DeFranco also sets aside time to work with each individual section and people during lunch or after school.

The band performs at least two concerts a year. It performed a Christmas concert in December. Since then, it has not only been preparing for the annual spring concert, but also for the trip to Quebec City in May. The band will be entering a competition with bands from several other states. The festival will be highly competitive, but the band is optimistic and is expecting good results.

Mr. DeFranco is assisted by several devoted band members including band coordinators, Lisa Meier and Kris Mueller, and a band council from each class.

The lights are dimmed. The audience take their seats. The auditorium is wrapped in silence and a darkness broken only by a single spotlight. Within this circle of light are three empty risers and a piano. A lone player in a flowing green robe is waiting. Suddenly the silence is broken by the first chords of the famous carol, "Adeste Fideles". As the piano continues to play, it is joined by the singers. Each bears a candle and is dressed in a robe identical to the pianist's. As they proceed toward the risers, the volume grows and swells, filling the auditorium. As the last members of the choir take their places, the song ends. It is tradition. The Mount Pleasant Choir is fiercely proud of its tradition of excellence. The choir, directed by Mrs. Susan Smith, is recognized both locally and internationally as one of the finest performing groups in the world. The choir has won awards in Atlanta, Nashville, Montreal, and many other cities and has often been requested to give repeat performances at area social

The choir is a group of 95 devoted students, who willingly attend the after school practices, committed to giving their best. As Ernie Portlock said, "The choir is really just one big family. We have our disagreements, but we love each other." Mrs. Smith, the director, says, "It always amazes me that so many unique, creative, and diverse people join choir. Then something beautiful happens at a concert that goes beyond the notes on the page - it's what brings us all together."

Each year the choir elects three student officers to help keep things running smoothly. This year the officers are: President- Wendy Eachus, Vice President- Drew Hansen, and Secretary Joy Jensen. In addition, there is an adult choral association that is in charge of funds and choir projects.

Jazz Band

The Mount Pleasant Jazz band, also under the direction of Mr. DeFranco, had a very successful year. Rehearsals were twice a week after school and members received one-half credit for their participation. The band performed at several concerts including the student showcase, the ensemble concert, and the spring concert. They also competed in Quebec with the concert and marching bands and the Newark Jazz Festival. The school's jazz band has only been in existence for three years, but it has become a popular way to explore jazz in a relaxed, informal atmosphere and earn credit at the same time.

All State Band

To be selected as a member of an All-State musical event has always been a great honor due to the heavy competition from the top musicians statewide. This year six students, Chris Banning, Dan Breazeale, Dan Croce, Beth Huxtable, Anthony Mathis, and Kris Mueller, were named to All-State band. Chris and Dan were further honored by being named first chair. Two students, Walter Brown and Mike Dostillio, were named to All State Jazz band. Finally, four students were chosen to participate in All-State Orchestra. They were Dan Breazeale, Chris Banning, Lianne Demarski, and Sara Schroer.

Chorale

The bell rings and seventeen students take their places. The director walks in and the work begins. These seventeen students are the finest that Mount Pleasant Choir has to offer. Chorale members are chosen by audition or invitation and must have previous experience in the choir. The chorale has won awards in Montreal and New York as well as giving many Christmas performances locally. The size and ability of the chorale make possible the singing of slightly more difficult arrangements in a wider range of styles. Despite a serious cut in the amount of rehearsal time, senior Lon Pilot says, "Even though there are new people in the chorale, and we only meet twice a week, we still sound like we have been singing together for years."

All State Choir

It takes talent and a lot of hard work to become a member of the All-State Chorus. Each candidate is required to prepare a solo and a quartet before a panel of judges. The students with the highest scores form the choir. Mount Pleasant has an overabundance of determination and talent as all sixteen members of choir who tried out for All-State choir made it. They were: sopranos Linda Bunting, Cindy Corbett, Wendy Eachus, Becki Foltz, Laura Glass, Joy Jensen, and Katerina Nelson; altos Margaret Badger and Sarah Lengkeek; tenors Becca Drury, Chris Martin, Troy Mease, Lon Pilot, and Ernie Portlock; and basses Drew Hansen and Karl Yngve.

AFS

The AFS international/intercultural exchange program is a non-governmental, non-profit, organization dedicated to peace through the promotion of worldwide intercultural learning and living experiences. It involves secondary school students, young adults, and families from all walks of life.

Mount Pleasant was one of the first high schools in the United States to have exchange students. Since the first year, in 1954, the AFS club has been very active. The advisor of the club is Dr. Crum. This year's officers are: President, Kelly Olguin; Vice President, Dee Nicholas; Co-treasurers, Kristin Mueller and Cindy Corbett; Secretary, Lisa Meier; and Corresponding Secretary, Becki Hodgson. The major activity planned for this year is an AFS sleepover. All the AFS members in New Castle County will come to Mount Pleasant High School to have supper and spend the night in the school. This activity includes games, music, cards, pizza, and no sleep!

Vincent

Peanut Butter: The Symbol of America

Vincent Van Mooleghem came to the United States with the organization Youth for Understanding. He comes from Paris, France. He is sixteen years old and a junior at Mount Pleasant. Vincent, or Vince as everyone calls him, lives with the Todds.

Vincent thinks that the American school system is fantastic because students can choose the classes they want to take; something you can't do in France. He also appreciates the fact that Mount Pleasant, unlike his school in Paris, has a lot of after school activities. He played soccer this fall.

For Vincent "the only thing that is hard to stand is peanut butter: the symbol of America."

Valerie And Dida

Maria-Elena (alias Dida) Cappello and Valerie (alias Val) Martin are two AFS students this year. Dida comes from Milano in northern Italy, and lives with the Butters in Edgewood Hills. Her sister, Anna Butters, is a junior at Mount Pleasant. Val comes from Metz in the Northeast of France, and she lives with the Katzes in Windybush. Her host sister, Jill Dunlap, is a senior at Mount Pleasant.

Val: Dida, why the United States?

Dida: In Italy, people always discuss the American imperialism, the American way of life. That's why I came. I wanted to make up my own mind, to discover it for myself. What about you?

Val: I was looking for an assimilation of English. A big ambition isn't it? Also like you, I wanted to really know about the US and the only way to it is to live here. I know you like to eat - what do you think about American food?

Dida: The first thing I'm going to do when I get back to Italy is to spend one week eating my grandma's pasta! But right now, I really enjoy American chocolate chip cookies . . . I can't say the same about peanut butter and jelly sandwiches. Val, I know you are just crazy as I am - What thing do you like the best?

Val: You know, I really love the fact that teenagers can drive at 16.

That's great! I would be driving all the time if I could drive! In France, we have to be 18!

Dida: Enjoy this year as best you can. Ciao!

Val: Salut!

DECA

A Snickers breakfast before homeroom. A new pencil to replace the one you sat on on the way to school. A hot pretzel to stave off the after school munchies. Where do you get these? The school store. Who runs the school store? DECA.

DECA means Distributive Education Clubs of America. Mount Pleasant has had a DECA branch for many years. The tradition of awarding winning Mount Pleasant chapters will be continued at the 1986 DECA State Conference on February 23rd or 24th.

Mr. Gerstel advises DECA. They have meetings once a month and practice marketing and management skills. In addition to running the school store, DECA sponsors various fund raisers, including a dance on January 25th.

Officers of DECA are: Vilma Funcich, President; Daina Komorowski, Vice-President; John Lynch, Treasurer; and Leanne Smulski and Jessica Longacre, Secretaries.

Many people don't know much about DECA, but life at Mount Pleasant would be hard to imagine without hot pretzels and sodas.

JDG

Jobs for Delaware Graduates is a program that helps seniors not planning to further their education make themselves into a desirable employee. The program accomplishes this goal by having guest speakers visit the classroom to lecture on topics such as how to write a resume, how to give a good impression at an interview, and how to find a job. The class was taught by Mrs. Brenda Jones and kept a memory book that easily explained what JDG was about.

The Mount Pleasant chapter was especially proud of Juan Purnell, who was named Northeast Regional Vice-President. Besides Mount Pleasant, Juan represented six other schools including A.I. duPont, Brandywine, Concord, Claymont, McKean, and Wilmington. Part of his duties included trips to Dover twice a month.

The success of this program is shown by the number of graduates in the past who have been placed in jobs and the present students who now have a clear idea of their future after high school.

Honor Society

If you've ever been tutored or had a certain grade point average, you know about National Honor Society. If not, it's probably an enigma to you. Honor Society is not just a "brains' club." It is so much more than that.

Honor Society members tutor students in a variety of subjects. They take trips to Washington, D.C. or New York for cultural experiences. National Honor Society recognizes students who have contributed to their school and community in terms of service, scholarship, character, knowledge, and leadership.

Every year the National Honor Society holds an induction ceremony for its new members. This year it was held at the University Whist Club on January 29th.

There are twelve seniors and seven juniors in Honor Society this year. Officers include Kristy Oswald, President; Mark Creasey, Vice-President; Lisa Meier, Treasurer; Cindy Corbett, Secretary; and Becki Foltz, Corresponding Secretary. Dr. John Crum advises the group.

Latin Club

The Latin Club is comprised of all the students who take Latin. Although Latin is not used by any culture today as a native language, it is still widely used in medicine and is the base of many of our everyday words. In addition to classroom work to improve their basic understanding of the language, the Latin Club takes trips. In the past, they have visited the Baltimore Aquarium and Inner Harbor. Later in the year they will join other Latin students from all over the United States at the Latin Convention. Area Latin clubs meet at the University of Delaware. At the convention, all members dress in the appropriate togas and tunics that they have made themselves and have activities such as chariot races. The club is advised by Mrs. Sally Orr.

Green Flash

Off to a quick start, with the first issue out in September, the Green Flash informed its readers of the trends in the school. Under the brave and sagacious leadership of Editor-in-Chief, Anna Butters, and sectional editors Karl Yngve, News; Ram Srinivasan, Sports; and Ann Kelleher and David Hodgson, Features; the staff produced a noteworthy publication, which served as a sounding board for student interests and ideas. Advised by Mrs. Hutchinson, the paper was printed in the school's own print shop under the direction of Mr. Crowthers. Special distinctions of the paper, including Bubble, Bonton and the Valentine's Day Issue, made this a unique Mount Pleasant offering.

Math Team

Math team can be deemed as a dull activity for dorks only by those who have not experienced the thrill of a group of finely-honed minds battling for the ultimate solution to an insolvable problem. Standard A-Team members, Racquel Olquin, John Creasey, Mark Creasey, Judy McAndrew, Doug Daum and Anna Butters have made a name for Mount Pleasant with their fearless battle against square roots, polynomials, and Law of Sines. With only two meets left, Mount Pleasant A was the third highest scoring team out of all the public, private, and parochial schools in Delaware. Adding to the team's competitive spirit are faculty leaders Robert Barfield and Marge Windolph, who constantly urge students to use what they learned in class and desert the old standby answer of the square root of seventeen. All math team members enjoy the chance to gossip with their friends from other schools and sample the snack machines around the district. With three teams plus a new freshmen team, Mount Pleasant should have a winning math team for years to come

Peer Counseling

Ask any student if they know what "Peer Counseling" is? Most likely, they do. This year the students in Peer Counseling have done a great deal in order to get some recognition in the school. They have planned some type of school activity for each month. They helped to publicize the National Lung Association's Great American Smoke Out by dressing members in cigarette boxes in order to remind the students not to light up. Their November project was the honoring of all faculty members who were veterans. In the morning announcements, they made a speech that recognized all the veterans and a poster was hung by the nurse's office. A peer counselor workshop for all the peer counselors from other schools is planned. A skit that would help teachers to recognize when a student might need help is also planned. One of the highlights of this year will be a trip to the Valley Forge Detoxification Center, where they will see people with major problems and how professional counselors handle them. They were advised by Mrs. Lacefield and Mrs. Stanley

Ski Club

The Mount Pleasant Ski team and club called Chadds Ford its home slope as they enjoyed a very successful season. The ski club took a trip to Chadds Ford over on February 13 and a trip in Innsbruck, Austria was also planned. The ski team was helped by the addition of our foreign exchange student from Italy, Dida Cappello. She was ranked first out of the twenty schools that Mount Pleasant competed against. The leaders on the boys team were James Duddy and Jeff Dalton. The advisors were Mr. Willie Miranda and Ms. Mary O'Connell.

School Service

The School Service Club at Mount Pleasant is responsible for the ticket sales at all the home athletic games. In the fall the dedicated volunteers, led by Co-captains Laura Pierson and Rebecca McClure, cheerfully sacrifice their time to sell football tickets outside, despite the weather. Luckily in the winter, the girls move inside, but their work doesn't end. They supervise and sell all the basketball and wrestling tickets. Along with Mr. Shoemaker and Mr. Barfield, who put their valuable time and effort into the squad of ticket sellers, the girls deserve a special thank you from the student body at Mount Pleasant.

The 1985-86 rock-n-roll animals of WMPH, Mount Pleasant's non-commercial radio station, are sending out their signal all the way to Newark with 100 watts of power. WMPH plays a variety of music for all music preferences. Joe Kelly, the Station Manager, plays music from the late 60's and early 70's and features a Psychedelic Snack at 5:00 on Thursdays for Led Zeppelin lovers. Scott Harris, the General Manager for WMPH, spins the Heavy Metal sounds from the 80's with Van Halen, the Scorpions, and other groups on Tuesday afternoons. The Matt and Sico show takes off on Wednesday with Top 40 and New Wave. The station's advisor is Allan Clark. Mike Quillan keeps things moving behind the mike as the Chief Engineer. So CRANK IT UP on 91.7 FM and get the best Rock-n-roll, as we know it, with NO commercials. Rock on Mount Pleasant!!

Student Council

The Mount Pleasant Student Council got off to a quick start this fall and kept a productive pace for the entire year. The 1985-86 Student Council was led by Mark Creasey, President; Michael Dostillio, Secretary; John Creasey, Treasurer; and Slayton Lane, Parliamentarian. With Mr. Robert Emrich as the faculty advisor, the Council held bi-monthly meetings. The results were read to all the students by the homeroom representatives. The officers attended a student council workshop in Dover and brought back new ideas and the criteria for the Standards of Excellence Program that they worked diligently towards this year. The Student Council sponsored a dance and the successful spirit-chain competition.

Deliberately ifferent

Before reaching the pinnacle of your high school career, your senior year, you must first suffer the first three years as an underclassman. Fortunately for all, this experience becomes more tolerable as time goes by.

For many, freshman year is difficult, with other students telling you where the student elevator and swimming pool are. If you are fortunate, you have experienced older brothers or sisters to help you through the year of degradation as you are constantly reminded of your lowly freshmen status and your immaturity.

However, if you survive this year of torment, as a sophomore you are able to treat the incoming freshmen in the same manner. From personal experience, you know the best ways of humiliating the naive ninth graders. Lockers and Superglue . . . the perfect combination???

Your last year as an underclassman, your junior year, is marked by worries about the future. Juniors have a blast taking the PSAT's and the dreaded SAT's. Decisions concerning the style and stone in your class ring are favorite lunchtime topics. However the best thing about your junior year, is that once you have survived it, you will probably flourish during your senior year.

Class Of 1989

For many years, freshmen have suffered from the traditional image of rude, immature, loud brats. The obvious fallacy of this view becomes apparent when you consider each ninth grader individually. Although they are unaccustomed to the sober atmosphere of hard-work and learning which permeates the high school, they are well-worth the effort to train them.

Although their exuberant screams while they run through the halls knocking down upperclassmen often elicit curses, freshmen are a necessary addition. The presence of freshmen remind the upperclassmen of their humble roots. Generally as high school students leave their freshmen year behind, they lose the blush of youth and become set in their ways. Through the ubiquitous freshmen, the upperclassmen maintain contact with America's younger generation.

Led by President Lindsay Lowry, Vice-President Miken Mueller, Secretary Tracy Lilley, and Treasurer Melissa Dishop, the class of 1989 is unusually talented and enthusiastic.

When preparing the specimen for analysis, the analyst may choose to cut the sample into thin sections and then grind it to a fine powder. This process is often used for the analysis of minerals and rocks. The resulting powder can then be analyzed using a variety of techniques, including X-ray fluorescence (XRF) and inductively coupled plasma atomic emission spectroscopy (ICP-AES).

Us
by Karyn Pettit

I can see us still standing together as we pass on through the years sharing our thoughts and laughing at nothing and sweeping away each other's tears

-I can hear the laughter as we walk on down the hall

-I can see us sticking up for whoever needs help, or starts to fall

I can see us doing everything that was impossible, because we were because we were together

Endless conversations on the phone as long as we have each other we can never stand alone

-We are all a part of each other,
We can lift each other higher
We will be together for as long as we can because we are

Class Of 1987

Junior year, the culmination of the underclassmen years, is characterized by worries about the future and the joys your age bring. The new worries and concerns juniors face revolve around life after high school. Suddenly, everyone wants to know where you are going to college and what your major will be. In preparation for college, juniors begin a long series of standardized tests starting with the PSAT in the fall. This test designed so juniors can gain experience in taking standardized tests, is used to determine National Merit Scholarships and usually a nerve-wracking experience. Later in the year, the SAT's are taken (and once the results come back, retaken), along with Achievement tests. Students who participate in the Student Search are faced with sorting through the mounds of information trying to decide which colleges they will apply to.

Junior year is not without happiness and good times. There are finally are many people in the school who are younger than you, who can't be teased about their lowly status. Finding that perfect classmate, finding 86 people to turn to, and then finding one special one to lock it creates many memories. The most important occasion of Junior year is the last day-the day when juniors join that elite category of people called seniors.

ACTIVITIES

Homecoming 1985

Homecoming activities began October 16 with the open nominations for Homecoming queen. The open nominations produced fifteen semi-finalists, which was narrowed three days later to the nine finalists who made up Homecoming Court. The entire senior class buzzed with gossip about who would make court, who would escort them, and finally, who would be crowned queen.

The Friday night before the parade, game, and dance, a bonfire was held and the court was introduced to the crowds. Recognition for our State Championship bound field hockey team and a few words from head football coach, David Needs, combined with the cheerleaders and band gave the crowds something to cheer about. The intense heat and light of the roaring bonfire provided an ideal backdrop to the almost traditional marshmallow fight. As the fire slowly died away, the crowds disbursed only to return for the parade at 10:00 the next morning.

October 26, 1985 was a bright, brisk sunny day as the band members, cheerleaders, and Homecoming court milled around the parking lot of Mount Pleasant Junior High in preparation for the parade. The class floats were fussed over by their creators as they scurried to fix the banner that blew away in the wind or the football that looked like a heap of mashed potatoes. When the last convertible for the Homecoming candidates finally arrived, the parade began with a jolt. The parade route was two and one-half miles, almost double the distance of the previous year's parade. The band led the way, playing selections from their half time show, followed by the class floats, whose passengers were engaged in a friendly class spirit yelling match. The court, escorted by the cheerleaders, waved at the Bellefonte crowds. The parade ended up at Mount Pleasant High.

The choir sang the Star Spangled Banner to begin the homecoming game against Dickinson. The Mount Pleasant Green Knights tried valiantly to overcome the Dickinson Rams, but they proved to be too strong an opponent. Although Mount Pleasant fell farther and farther behind, neither the fans nor the team lost hope. The alumni rocked the stadium with their claps and stomps to old cheers dating from their high school days. Right up to the final buzzer, the crowd and cheerleaders offered their encouragement, even though the scoreboard read Dickinson 35, Mount Pleasant 0.

The half time activities were beautifully designed and executed. The marching band played softly in the background as the candidates walked through a column of silks and cheerleaders. Karin Landis, the 1984 Homecoming queen, crowned Laura Albers, the 1985 Homecoming queen. After receiving a small gift from the cheerleaders, Laura and the rest of the court were driven once around the field.

The end to a beautiful day, the Homecoming dance, was sponsored by the cheerleaders. The theme of the dance was "A Knight in the Clouds." Spyre, a band made up of Mount Pleasant and Concord students, played from 8 to 11

Nine Chang is daughter of YC and Nina W Chang. She was escorted by Dan Croce. During her four years at Mount Pleasant, she was on the Green Leaf Staff and served as Editor during her senior year. She was a member of the Math Team, A.F.S., Science Olympiad, and a National Merit Commended Student. In addition to her school activities she wrote for the Eye Magazine and was a member of the Scientific Explorers Club.

Robin Dungee is the daughter of William and Dorothea Dungee. She was escorted by Chris Cavin. Robin contributed to Mount Pleasant by participating in Track and Human Relations and managing Boys Basketball. In addition, Robin was very active in Mount Pleasant's department as she was a member of the Green Knights Marching Band and the Concert band.

Dawn Glazer is the daughter of Andrew and Patricia Glazer. She was escorted by Gordon Wellings. She took advantage of Mount Pleasant's athletic programs by playing Field Hockey, Basketball, and Softball at the varsity level.

Jennifer Grodzicki is the daughter of Robert and Alexandra Grodzicki. She was escorted by David Epps. Jenny is interested in other cultures and societies as she is secretary of the Foreign Language Club and a member of a AFS.

Congratulations

Walking down the Mount Pleasant halls, you can't help but notice Laura Albers, the 1985 Homecoming queen. Laura's smile lights up her entire face as she greets her numerous friends. She bubbles over with happiness and good will. As captain of the cheerleaders

Laura

Laura is the cheerful epitome of school spirit. She is the daughter of Walter Albers and Ann Hetrick. She was escorted by Slayton Lane, the captain of the soccer team. In Laura's spare time, she likes gymnastics, dancing, and soccer. Laura plans to attend college for physical therapy.

Alison Koski is the daughter of David and Cindy Koski. She was escorted by Chip Holcombe. Alison is a very active, athletic girl, as she played Basketball, Softball, and was captain of the Field Hockey team. In addition, she was a member of the Ski Club.

Kristen Mueller is the daughter of David and Gigi Mueller. She was escorted by Darren Dalton. Kris was the band coordinator this year, and a member of the Green Knights Marching Band. Her interest in music further manifests itself through involvement in the orchestra in "Barnum" and "The Music Man". Kris was also in A.F.S., Green Leaf 1986, and the Scientific Explorer Club sponsored by the duPont Experimental Station.

Kristine Oswald is the daughter of Robert and Martha Oswald. She was escorted by Harry Johnson. Kristy played Field Hockey and managed Boy's Swimming. She was freshmen class President and a member of the School Service Club. Kristy was a member of National Honor Society, and the Math Team. Kristy was the Senior Section Editor of the yearbook.

Lori Ricci is the daughter of Dolores Ricci. She was escorted by Mike Julian. Lori was also a varsity Field Hockey captain, Student Council Vice President and a varsity cheerleader.

Things That Go Bump In

Dressing up on Halloween is one of those special senior privileges. On this day, the seniors defy the Establishment with their wild and crazy costumes and act out lifelong fantasies. This year was no exception.

Always looking for a few laughs, the guys once again bared their gloriously masculine, muscular, hairy legs and wore skirts or nothing at all leading to informal Mr. Legs contests in the halls. John Cressy let all his inhibitions go when he donned the classic flasher uniform of a trench coat, dress socks, penny loafers and dark glasses. The most photographed trio, Steve Buzzale, Darren Dalton, and Mike Destille, dug up grass hula skirts, coconuts, and long black wigs to become the most gender-bending Hawaiian hula "girls".

Mount Pleasant has ever seen. A more traditional Bill Clark borrowed a cheerleading uniform to showcase his legs.

Friends and couples dressed alike. Troy Mease and Mary Jo Houchins dressed as the butler and the maid, respectively. Wendy Williams and Jackie Gail caused double vision for many with their identical snowman costumes. Orlie O'Connor appeared in drag as a Dunkin' Donut waitress with Kristy Oswald accompanying him as a sugar-coated, jelly-filled donut.

The staff got into the spirit of things, with Miss Denton shocking her English students with her goofy mask. Mr. Shoemaker must have remembered that imitation is the sincerest form of flattery when John Annable imitated his synthetic fashion. The cafeteria students had the school smiling and trying to guess their identity as they served lunch. Mrs. Orr transformed herself into an owl for the day, and Mr. Hedrich beamed at his classes behind a huge, friendly mask.

Often the costume reflected the wearer's personality, as was the case with Drew Hansen. Drew became his alter ego, Captain Corduroy, in complete corduroy from his nose down to his ridiculous slippers. Don Nicholas went a step further by painting the number 1 on his nose, masked personality on her face, and drawing attention to it by wearing all black. Stephen Rooney took pride in his Irish heritage by appearing as a leprechaun.

their costume and who had not based on the intricacy of the costume. Jackie LaMoure appeared in a beautiful geisha girl costume and Beth Dubroff was a demure young lady from the 19th century in her floor length white skirt, gloves, and parasol. Anne Sheemaker appeared as a exotic Spanish dancer dressed in a black lace dress. Lisa Miller was from the deep sea in her monster costume complete with fins and flippers.

A costume judging was held during lunches and the following were declared winners: Jenny Gaudin as the Statue of Liberty, Most Original: Mark Cunniff as Planet of the Apes, Funniest: Claire McDonough as a bumble bee, Cutest: and Harry Johnson as a nerd, Funniest.

The Music Man

The 1986 all-school musical was "The Music Man" by Meredith Willson and Franklin Lacey. Mr. Charles Elosky and Mr. David Menser were the directors, Mrs. Susan Smith was the band leader, and Mr. Sonny Leo was the choreographer.

The plot centered around a travelling salesman, Harold Hill, who is played by senior Lon Pilot Hill arrives in River City, Iowa to try to sell band instruments and uniforms. He meets with opposition, namely from schoolteacher, Marian Paroo, and Mayor Shinn. Paroo and Shinn were played by senior Wendy Eachus and sophomore Chris Dellolio respectively.

Lon Pilot, in the lead role of Harold Hill, is a newcomer to Mount Pleasant's drama scene, but he has plenty of experience singing as he is a member of Chorale. Wendy Eachus is a veteran of Mount Pleasant drama, having been in Grease played Jenny Lind in Barnum. She was the President of the choir. Both Chris Dellolio and freshman Dennis Kelleher, who plays Winthrop Paroo, have not been involved in any previous productions.

Come In From The Cold

Mount Pleasant is a very social school and welcomes the opportunity to meet other people. This year, the seniors in Mr. Emrich's political science class went down to visit Representative Tom Carper in Washington. In February, Representative Carper returned the visit and gave the senior class a chance to express their fears about topics that concerned them like the draft, prayer in school, and the space shuttle Challenger. Mount Pleasant also welcomed Stryper when they were in the area. Stryper, a Christian heavy metal band, performed in the Mount Pleasant auditorium, thus continuing in spirit the famous Student Council concerts from the seventies. Sypre, a popular local band which played at Homecoming, visited WMPH's Scott Harris to give an on-air interview. The classes, enjoying all the visitors, made a special effort to decorate the school before winter break.

Deliberately ifferent

... no more chemistry ... one more shot at the SAT's ... if I can only finish this final term paper ...

The senior year, that infamous dream is at last a reality. The year of your last hockey tournament or football game, that final Homecoming dance ... your last opportunity to screw up without getting in any real trouble for it, your closing curtain call ... It is a year of finales, but also one that marks infinite beginnings, and finally a year of reflections- all those memories?

Class Of 1986

The Class of 1986 has had a productive four years at Mount Pleasant, culminating this year under the leadership of President Chris Banning, Vice-President Lori Ricci, Secretary Jill Dunlap, and Treasurer Cindy Hartenauer. Through careful planning with advisor, Mrs. Smith, successful fund raisers were held including candy and sweatshirt sales.

The class officers are eager for June when their Prom secrets are revealed and a school sign, a gift from the Class of 1986, is unveiled.

LAST YEAR WE GAVE OUT MORE COLLEGE SCHOLARSHIPS THAN HARVARD, YALE OR MIT.

If the high cost of higher education is discouraging some of your students, why not spread the word about the Army National Guard?

In the Army Guard, a young person can get up to $4,000 in tuition assistance. Up to $9,000 to pay off federal college loans. Plus a nice healthy paycheck to keep him in hamburgers and textbooks.

All for just two days a month and two weeks a year, close to home or campus.

So, if you know someone who has the brains for college, but not the bucks, tell him about the Guard.

Where last year alone, we spent $3.6 million helping tomorrow's leaders make the grade.

Shay,

I tell you girl, if it wasn't for us, Susan's love life would be in a complete shambles! I am so happy for you. You are a lucky girl to have Lucky. Be good to him and make sure he is always good to you. Think of me working my ass off in college, and I'll try to come back to see ya'all.

Love
 Lori Porter
